by the ideal of service and of doing wholesome things for others.

One of the mistakes we make in appraising the lives of our fellows, is to forget their younger years and recall only their later times. When young David Alexander Christian began the practice of medicine in Appomattox in 1908, we were not yet on our feet from the blow of the defeat of the Confederacy. Desperately— we needed everything! And so it was the young son of a judge and the grandson of a beloved physician, got started off in his career with the indoctrination that people can be poor and in need, yet proud in soul. Humanitarianism was the challenge. And, the first stories I heard about Dr. Christian when I came to Appomattox in 1931, were stories of his fabulous benevolence. People came in and told of having been ill, and that Dr. Christian unfailingly answered their call, and then often bought and paid for the needed medicine, and never presented a bill. I could not undertake to list the stories that have been recounted by people who had found by experience that money was never on the mind of David Christian. He had one goal: humanity needed, and if he could help, that was his compensation.

It is a wonderful thing to have one's picture done in oil, and hung in the county court house. Trouble with this sort of thing, however, is that the person honored has passed on, and never knows that his neighbors thought so much of him. And so, it is precious now to recall that Dr. Christian's portrait, in oil, hangs in the county court house, and that it was placed there during his lifetime! I am happy to remember some words I made at the unveiling of that portrait, and that I said, and these are words I treasure: "They named him well when they named him CHRISTIAN."

WINDOW TOO CLEAN

Cheyenne, Wyo.- Seeing some boys running through the state-house yard, Leroy Henderson, the new janitor, leaned out of the window to yell at them—forgetting the window was still shut. He had just cleaned the window so clean he couldn't see it. He was cut around the forehead, but not seriously.

Vera

Vera, Nov. 22.- " Blessed are the pure in heart; for they shall see God." Matt. 5-8.

We will celebrate Thanksgiving Thursday. God has blessed us in many ways, for which we should all be really thankful. It's a real homecoming day for the families to gather in the old homes. To some it will be sad and so many vacant chairs.

The whole community was saddened by the passing of Dr. D. A. Christian. I do not think that Appomatox County ever sustained a greater loss by the passing of any citizen than in the pasing of our beloved physician, Dr. D. A. Christian, II. He had done more to relieave suffering humanity than any man in the county. It was never too hot or too cold for him to go, day or night, and his medical skill was excelled by none. He was our most beloved citizen. A good man has gone to his reward. We extend sympathy to his family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Watson visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harvey on Saturday night.

The woods are alive wiu hunters. They are having good luck. They should be very careful. I do hope none of them get shot. One man has already been killed.

Most of the people have sawed their winter wood. The weather man predicts a very severe winter. We have certainly been blessed with beautiful weather this fall.

HOLIDAY SAFETY DRIVE

Chicago, Ill.,- If you've had your hand on the bottle, keep your foot off the throttle.

That warning was issued the nation's drivers today by the National Safety Council as it opened its annual Christmas safety campaign.

The campaign is aimed at reducing holiday accidents. Special emphasis will be on traffic accidents, which have taken an upward swing this year of about 6 per cent. A contributing factor to this increase is an even greater gain in motor vehicle travel.

Heavier travel and the festive spirit of the Christmas season always add to the normal winter hazards of bad weather, slippery roads and added hours of darkness, the Council said.

ANTS IN HER PANTS

Fort Worth, Texas.- A neighbor found Debora Lee Franklin, 18-months old, sitting on a bed of red ants, snatched off her clothes and took her to a hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Sim Franklin later reported that Debora was "fine" but sleeping on her stomach for a while.

Colored Dots

The local chapter of New Farmers of America was host to the Western Federation of New Farmers of America last Wednesday. The program consisted of a leadership school. The school was divided into three groups as follows: Presidents and Vice Presidents, Secretaries and Treasurers, and Reporters and other officers. Dr. O. R. Johnson, Dr. M. A. Fields and Professor R. A. Bracey, of Virginia State College conducted the school. Twenty-eight boys from the five counties took an active part in the school. R. Q. Lawing, local advisor of the Carver Chapter and advisor of the Federation gave words of welcome to the Federation. The next meeting will be held in February at Dillwyn, Va., with the Carter G. Woodson chapter as host.

Impressive services were held at the Galilee Baptist Church last Sunday morning. The Rev. C. A. Marshall was the guest speaker. The church choir rendered special music. The offering was very good. All present enjoyed the service.

The public is invited to attend regular preaching services at First Baptist Church this Sunday morning at the regular preaching hour.

A large crowd attended the anniversary program of the Peaceful Grove church choir last Sunday evening at 7:30. Mrs. Adolphus Jones served as mistress of ceremony. Six different choirs took a part in the program. Remarks were given by Rev. Jones.

The Mount Zion Baptist Church of near Stonewall, Virginia has extended a call to the Rev. M. C. Cain as pastor. Rev. Cain has been serving for the past three months. Plans for installation will be held in the very near future.

The public is invited to worship at the Promise Land Baptist Church this Sunday morning at the regular preaching services.

A choir festival will be held at the Promise Land Baptist Church on the first Sunday night in December at 7:30. Local choirs are invited to take an active part. The program is given for the benefit of the church.

A special Harvest program was held at the Mount Zion Church last Sunday evening at 7:30. Mrs. Margaret Ferguson and Mrs. Moore had charge of the program. The Mount Airy and the Promise Land choirs took an active part in the program.

A large crowd attended the regular preaching services at the Chestnut Grove Baptist Church last Sunday morning. The pastor delivered a special sermon. The offering was very good.
